Fall Creek Falls State Park announces its new traditional arts event series called the Mountaineer Folk Art Project! The project incorporates the Mountaineer Folk Festival and Christmas on the Mountain, and features a series of traditional arts classes provided at low cost to the public with support and funding from the Friends of Fall Creek Falls State Park and the Tennessee Arts Commission. Inaugural year classes begin in February and focus on fiber arts; including Introductory Spinning, Basic Knitting, Wet Felting, and Needle Felting. Register online for classes at <https://tnstateparks.com/parks/events/fall-creek-falls/#/?park=fall-creek-falls> . Click the upcoming events tab and select the class that interests you! For more information, contact the Betty Dunn Nature Center at 423-881-5708.
